And the Winners are……….

Acteon Communication and Learning and HC-One, PwC and the Resuscitation Council UK and UNIT9 were among the organisations that triumphed at last night's E-Learning Awards.

The gala evening was held at the Marriott Hotel Grosvenor Square in London's Mayfair and hosted by Angela Lamont and Alan Dedicoat. The who's who from learning, development and technology world gathered to celebrate the strength and depth of successful e-learning that is taking place across the globe. Last night, 40 gold, silver and bronze awards were given out over the 17 categories and the evening really showcased the astonishing range and quality of e-learning.

The Resuscitation Council UK and UNIT9 enjoyed a record win, scooping no less than 4 golds and 1 silver for their Lifesaver project which addresses the lack of CPR skills in the UK.

Acteon Communication and Learning and HC-One, won 2 golds in the Compliance and Best e-learning project – private sector categories. PwC also won 2 golds in social media and the private sector excellent content categories. City & Guilds Kineo rounded off a truly exceptional year by winning E-learning development company of the year.

Other winners included Brightwave, Upside learning, DeltaNet International, Mind Click and Epic. The full results are below and at www.elearningage.co.uk/awards.aspx.

The Great Duck Race, sponsored by Unicorn Training Group, also returned and was run live from Qakar. Brian the Duck, designed by Anthony Watkins successfully negotiated rapids, waterfalls, reeds and other obstacles to win £500 for his chosen charity.

This year's headline sponsors were City & Guilds Kineo, Brightwave, Redware, and CrossKnowledge. Kallidus also provided brilliantly branded Toblerones for each guest and Unicorn Training was the official game sponsor. We would like to thank all our sponsors and partners for helping to make this event so special.

Looking ahead to 2014
Next year the E-Learning Awards will have been rewarding excellence for 10 years. To celebrate this milestone, we'll be holding a range of events starting with E-Learning 2020 on 27 November 2013. Further information is at www.elearningage.co.uk/2020.aspx.

The E-Learning Awards 2014 gala evening will be held on 6 November 2014. Entries will be open from February 2014. For sponsorship information please contact Adam Doyle at adamd@bizmedia.co.uk, tel +44 (0)118 380 0350.

The full results of the 2013 E-Learning Awards are:

Best use of synchronous e-learning
Winner: Worldmark International

Best use of social media for learning
Gold: PwC
Silver: Epic, Lloyds Banking Group and Talking Talent

Best learning game, simulation or virtual environment
Gold   The Resuscitation Council UK and UNIT9
Silver: The Center for Affiliated Learning, Affiliates Risk Management Services
Bronze: I am learning

Best online distance learning programme
Gold: University of East Anglia & James Paget University Hospitals NHS Foundation Trust
Silver: BMJ and University of Leicester
Bronze: HCUK

Excellence in the production of learning content – public sector
Gold: The Resuscitation Council UK and UNIT9
Silver: NCALT: Stalking and Harassment
Bronze: Queensland Department of Transport and Main Roads, Australia

Excellence in the production of learning content – not for profit sector
Gold: The Resuscitation Council UK and UNIT9
Silver: Oxfam GB and Walkgrove
Bronze: City & Guilds and Kineo

Excellence in the production of learning content – private sector
Gold: Fach Trottel - Writing in the Brand Style by PwC and Atticmedia
Silver: Epic and QVC
Bronze: Lend Lease EH&S Passport, created by 2and2 for Lend Lease

Best use of mobile learning
Gold: The Resuscitation Council UK and UNIT9
Silver: City & County of Swansea Council
Bronze: CanUHanyu, created by 2and2 for Education Services Australia

Most innovative near learning hardware or software product
Gold: Globisens Labdisc – Hand-held Mobile Science Laboratory
Silver: SIVECO Romania and the Ministry of National Education in Romania
Bronze: tessello – from Brightwave

Best e-learning project – not for profit sector
Gold: NCALT: 2012 Olympic Games suite of e-learning
Silver: The Resuscitation Council UK and UNIT9
Bronze: Epic and Civil Service Learning

Best use of e-learning to ensure compliance with external regulations or internal policies
Gold: Acteon and HC-One
Silver: Lend Lease EH&S Passport, created by 2and2 for Lend Lease
Bronze: WillowDNA and the IPA

Best e-learning project – private sector
Gold: Acteon and HC-One
Silver: LearningAge Solutions and Waterstones
Bronze: Vodafone

E-learning designer of the year
Winner: Janice Sargisson – DeltaNet International

E-learning team of the year
Winner: Vocollect & Upside Learning

e.learning age outstanding contribution award Winner: Tony Reddington – Mind Click

e.learning age outstanding learning organisation award
Winner: Unicorn Training Group

E-learning development company of the year
Gold: City & Guilds Kineo
Silver: Growth Engineering and Spicers
Bronze: Mind Click

About the E-Learning Awards
The E-Learning Awards, presented by e.learning age, has been rewarding e-learning excellence since 2005. The Awards are completely impartial and judged by an independent judging panel. The reach is vast and it receives well over 200 submissions from all over the world both from e-learning companies and also public, corporate and third sector organisations

About e.learning age
e.learning age provides the latest news, views, features and case studies from the world of learning, development and technology. We offer a comprehensive range of opportunities to maximise marketing programmes and promotional initiatives via our online, print and digital channels. Visit us at www.elearningage.co.uk. e.learning age is published by Bizmedia Ltd

Contact Information
For all enquiries about the E-Learning Awards please contact Kate Vose at katev@bizmedia.co.uk or tel +44 (0) 118 380 0350.

For all enquiries about e.learning age please contact Adam Doyle at adamd@bizmedia.co.uk or tel +44 (0) 118 380 0350.